Good morning Kimberly,

I spoke with Royan late Thursday. The goal of the team is to have a copy for your and Susan's review by noon today. This was shared with Royan.

Kimberly and Alan – I received a voice mail message from Mr. Broumand reiterating some of his previous points, especially his frustration that no one from Region 4 has returned his phone calls. I would like to regroup with you before I return his phone call. If the SSURO is issued on Monday, that can be part of the response. He shared a nuance I'd not picked up on before. If I understand correctly, he alleges that Seal Shield is coaching the VA on how to spec their product without invoking antimicrobial claims while providing them assurances the products do provide antimicrobial protection to end users. He continues to request that EPA contact the VA.

Please give me a call at your first opportunity.
